IMPORTANT NOTES

- 1) The figures listed represent acreages meeting field inspection standards for certified seed potatoes. Certification is official only after tuber inspections, post-harvest testing, and grade inspections are completed. Results of summer field inspections, tuber inspections and the post-harvest winter test may be obtained by writing or calling Wisconsin Seed Potato Certification, P.O. Box 328, Antigo, WI 54409; Phone (715) 623-4039. FAX (715) 623-6970.
- 2) The acreage figures do not necessarily indicate quantities of seed available for purchase since a portion of the annual production is destined for replanting, fresh consumption or processing.
- 3) Late blight notice: No late blight was found by certification personnel during summer field inspections in 2009.
- 4) Many certified seed growers employ crop scouts to thoroughly monitor disease and insect pressure in their fields during the growing season. Buyers are always encouraged to visit Wisconsin seed potato growers at any time, and to inquire before purchase about information that is available in official field reports, Health Certificates and private scouting reports.
- 5) The growers of organic seed potatoes listed herein have complied with the rules of seed potato certification in Wisconsin as codified in WDATCP 156. The Wisconsin Seed Potato Certification Program and the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade & Consumer Protection enforce these regulations and not those of organic production. The Wisconsin Seed Potato Certification Program makes no warranty, expressed or implied, on the organic certification of these potatoes.
